Just for Fun

One guy in our class is smarter than Einstein.

Of course, so am I, but he's smarter than Einstein when he was alive.

I'm very smart in school. I have a photographic memory.

That means any time I want to know anything, I drop my brain off at Fotomat and it takes a week to ten days to get it back . . . It usually comes back blurry.

A classmate of mine is so smart, he knows the answer to every question the teacher asks.

He raises his hand so often in class that his underarms are sunburned.

We have a kid in our class who's so smart, he's got more brains in his little finger than I have in my entire family.

One kid in our class gets in a fight every day after school.

He says it helps keep him out of trouble.

Keep 'em coming!

Just want to remind you to keep sending in your labels and if you like to shop online you may register and shop at www.boxtops4education.com and we will earn a little more toward our goal. Avery office products have joined in this school fundraiser so look for the Box Tops for Education label on some of their products.

Garage Sale

We are re-scheduling our first garage sale to a future date when we have more items. Keep bringing things in and we will keep you posted on the date. We give tax-deductible receipts for all items.

Train up a child in the way he should go and when he is old he will not depart from it.

Educational Philosophy

We believe that a personal relationship with God is the single most important part of our educational process. We believe that Christian service and sharing the Good News with our fellow human beings is essential in the development of the whole person.

AIA believes that learning must be an active adventure, integrating the spiritual, mental, physical, cultural, and social aspects of life.

AIA believes that parents are the primary teachers in a child's life. We want our students' parents to be actively involved in the learning process that takes place in our classroom. Parental involvement is required.

The AIA learning environment encourages the freedom of individual thought yet at the same time requires the student to take responsibility for his actions.
